What our Campers Say...

A Selection of reviews from 2023

We had a great time! Everyone was friendly, the bathrooms were clean, showers warm, convenience of onsite store, playground and pool for the kiddos, walking trails, water access/rentals...I could go on. You can tell that they really take pride in their campground and they definitely had a great crew that left us feeling welcomed! We will be back! Jun 27, 2023

This KOA does it right! Roomy sites, enchanting boardwalk to woodsy trails, lots of friendly, caring staff out and about...a charming camp store and pavilion.....Dogs are respected and welcomed, even with a designated beach! Hooks ups were easy to access and worked perfectly, campsite was level!!! we were not sure what to expect when we pulled in, and now we know. already booked for next year!

The entire staff are the best. They wave at you while they're driving their carts and tending to some customer request or maintenance call. The grounds are clean and the activities are well organized and entertaining. The location is close to a lot of family fun venues. This is our 4th year staying at Chocorua KOA. We have a site reserved for Father's Day, Labor Day & Columbus weekends.

Sep 05, 2023

This was one of our favorite stops on our whole trip up the East Coast. The campground is well managed, and the view on our site was amazing. It had something to offer to any age group. We camped at Chocorua KOA Holiday in a Motorhome.

Cat M.

Incredible facilities, organisation and welcome. I've never been to a campground with twice-daily garbage collection from your pitch, cable tv, or pizza and firewood delivery! There is a large network of well kept and pretty walking trails, a swimming and boating lake - it's all very scenic and we saw lots of wildlife. Plus well stocked store and other facilities and a ton of events for kids. The staff were incredibly helpful.

The Second Greatest Show on Earth!

That's what circus showman P.T. Barnum proclaimed in 1869 as he marveled at the Mount Washington Cog Railway's dramatic ascent to the summit of the highest peak in the northeastern United States. High praise indeed, coming from the man whose three-with a nod to its steam heritage, the railway also continues to operate a pair of centuryold, coal-fired steam engines.

Trains lay over at the 6288' summit of Mount Washington for approximately one hour, plenty of time to explore the ring extravaganza famously and modestly occupied the top spot! Today, more than 150 years later, The Cog Railway remains one of the world's great rail adventures, and an exhilarating journey through history, technology and nature!

The Cog was the first mountain-climbing cog railway in the world, and with an average grade of 25% (some sections approach 38%), it's also the second steepest. Motive power is provided by a fleet of seven powerful biodiesel locomotives, each custom designed, built and maintained on site. And

Sherman Adams Visitor Center and its rooftop observation deck, the Tip Top House (perhaps the oldest existing mountaintop hostelry in the world, now a museum) an interactive weather exhibit, a cafeteria, and two gift shops.

Weather conditions at the summit are usually quite a bit different than those at the base station. During the three-hour round trip, you'll climb through three climate zones to a subarctic tundra similar to that of far northern Canada, and hurricane-force wind gusts occur on the summit an average of 110 days per year.

Measurable snowfall occurs on the summit 12 months a year. Regardless of the season, visitors will be most comfortable with warm, waterproof clothing and sturdy footwear.

Located in the heart of the majestic White Mountains region of northern New Hampshire, The Mount Washington Cog Railway is a year-round attraction. From late October until late April, when the summit is inaccessible, trains run daily up to Waumbek Station at 4000'. Visitors to Waumbek enjoy complimentary hot refreshments, comfortable warming huts, a blazing firepit, and, in clear conditions, stunning views to the north and west.

Open before or after your trip, Marshfield Base Station features the Cog Railway Museum (admission is free), a gift shop stocked with Cog gear, and a convenience store/food court for last minute necessities and hot and cold snacks. A wraparound observation deck provides beautiful panoramic views of the railway and the mountain, especially at sunset. Parking is always free for railway customers. See page 10 for Directions.

A Short, Jaunt to the Great Hill Fire Tower

The Hemenway State Forest, just under 2,000 acres, consists of glacially carved foothills, scenic vistas, and thickets of pine forest. This preserve land lies northerly and centrally within Tamworth. Great Hill, Duck Pond and the 135-acre Big Pines Natural Area are located within the forest.

The park's many trails provide access for walking, hiking, bird, and wildlife observation. The outstanding view from Great Hill fire tower can be obtained either via a short jaunt (@ .75 miles round-trip) from the Four Corners parking area on Great Hill Road, (take Great Hill Road from Tamworth Village). The parking area is a few miles up once the road turns to dirt. The trail to the Fire Tower starts at the orange gate on the uphill (right) side of the parking area.

The Great Hill tower was built in 1933 by the Chocorua Conservation Commission and was taken over by the town of Tamworth in 1977. The Tamworth Conservation Commission continues to maintain primarily for recreational purposes and have added a vista panorama to identify the mountain ranges at the top of the look-out. Be sure to bring your camera to capture some great scenic views, family fun, and perhaps some wildlife.

For a longer woodsy, and picturesque trek, access the Spur Trail; a mellow 2+ mile round trip hike that brings you through a stand of ancient white pines and hemlocks with some impressively large trees, ending up at the Tamworth Fire Tower. At the top you will find a magnificent view of the Sandwich Mountain Range. A large sign marks the parking spot for the Big Pines Natural Area on Rt. 113A, 2.9 miles from Tamworth village. At the entrance of the signed Big Pine Natural Area, you will immediately head into the deep softwood forest. At 0.1 mi. the trail descends to cross the Swift River on a sturdy footbridge. This bridge and the trails in this area are all the work of the Tamworth Conservation Commission. A routed sign shows the trail network. Take the R (W) fork of the Betty Steele Loop Trail, which wanders upward through those big pines, one reportedly over 14' in circumference! From the upper loop junction continue south on the signed Peg King Spur Trail. The last pitch of the trail up to the summit of Great Hill is

On your way back to the campground stop at the Other Bakery for some tasty treats, check out Remick's Farm & Museum and Swift River across the street. The Tamworth Farmer's Market and live music takes place on Saturdays at the UU by the Memorial Statue from 9am – 1pm. The Barnstormer's Summer Theatre and the Tamworth History Center are also right in town of Tamworth. Take the day and enjoy the country town life.

The Pot Holes Swimming Area is located on the Cold River in Sandwich, NH. The water carved boulder swim spot is located on 113A, Whiteface Road, just past the bridge. If you get to the intersection of Young Mountain Road, you've gone too far. An extensive boardwalk over the marsh to Atwood Brook may reveal aviary wonders if you stop to check

Beede Falls in Sandwich is hiding out by the infamous dirt Sandwich Notch Road. The Bearcamp River flows down a series of long slab rocks with a picturesque waterfall drop at the end. At the base of the slide is a large shallow pool. You can sit underneath the falls and get a river massage. Venture upstream, on the rocks, to see more erratic boulder cascades, or trek around the various short trails through the mossy boreal forest. To access this hidden gem, travel south on Rt 16 2.5 miles, take a right onto Rt 25 W. 12 miles, slight right onto Little Pond Road 2 miles; continue on NH 109 N./Grove Street through 'downtown' Sandwich 1.8 miles. Grove St. turns into Diamond Ledge Road, stay on that until it ends at the Mead Base. Park to the right of the old farmhouse and walk towards the kiosk with maps and information about the area. The trail is right behind the kiosk. It is about a 5 minute walk on a flat surface to Beede Falls.

Lower Falls, located in Albany on the Kancamagus Highway is a New England summer tradition. The USFS charges a parking fee so make sure to bring cash. A short drive north on Rt 16, taking a left onto Rt 112, about 20 miles from the campground, will allow you to discover the legendary White Mountain National Forest attraction. The Swift River carries volumes of water from the mountains, naturally creating swimming holes, rock water slides and hours of exploration. Bring your bathing suit and towel as they tend to be quite refreshingly chilly. The Forest Service provides bathrooms, water fountains, and a covered picnic area with charcoal grill. A bit down the road are additional picturesque waterfalls: Sabbaday, Rocky Gorge, and Champney. The Lower Falls is the best for swimming.

Our Namesake... Mount Chocorua

The Legend...

Part of the Sandwich Mountain Range, Mount Chocorua, stands picturesque, framed by sky and tree. It is one of New Hampshire's most beloved mountains for its great hiking trails and beautiful familiarity.

Mt. Chocorua received its fame after 1725, when the Pequawket Indians and the settlers of the area, under direction from British Army Captain Lovewell, fought against each other in the first and last battle of the White Mountains. Men on both sides were killed and Pequawket the tribe picked up their village and moved to the banks of the St. Lawrence River in Canada. Only one proud and bold Indian chief stayed behind; Chief Chocorua.

Chocorua kept his young son Tuamba with him in the mountains, teaching him to hunt and instilling the love,
resource, and pride of nature within him.

The Chief befriended a settler family, the Campbells, in the town now named Tamworth. Cornelius Campbell, his wife Caroline and their ten year old son Cornelius Jr. agreed to care for little Tuamba while Chief Chocorua was called away to a Pow Wow in Canada. Tuamba loved playing with Cornelius Jr. and very much enjoyed Caroline's cooking. He acquired a curiosity of the different tastes of the settler's kitchen, one day trying a dish that was meant to kill the wolves attacking the Campbell's cattle. It was strong poison meant for large animals; Tuamba became very ill and died. With heavy hearts, the Campbells buried Tuamba in their farm field.

Two months later, Cornelius was away from the Chief farm. $\mathsf{C}\,\mathsf{h}\,\mathsf{o}\,\mathsf{c}\,\mathsf{o}$ rua returned to little find his son dead and Agony buried. betrayal coursing through his blood; he slit Caroline's throat, mortally wounded her son, and ran off screaming to his mountains.

When Cornelius returned to his cabin and found his family slain, he knew it was Chocorua. He grabbed his musket and ran to the mountains to avenge his family. He pursued Chocorua to the highest peak of the mountain. Chocorua stood on the edge of the highest boulder, looking at the only white man he'd called friend; he knew that Cornelius would kill him, so he raised his arms to the sky and shouted "Evil spirits breathe death upon the cattle of the white man. Wind and fire destroy your dwellings. Panthers and wolves howl and fatten on your bones. Chocorua goes now to the Great Spirit." And he leapt off the mountain, crushing his body and releasing his legend on the rocks far below.

Exactly two years later the body of Cornelius Campbell was found in the woods near his cabin, partially eaten by wolves; no explanation of his demise evident. The mountain people believed in the curse of Chocorua, and dissuaded many farmers from settling the area of Tamworth and Conway, New Hampshire. One hundred years to the day of the Pequawket Chief Chocorua's death, a devastating plague killed all the cattle from Albany to Conway, New Hampshire.

Remember this haunting legend when you reach the peak of Chocorua. Look out over the mountains he called home, imagine the inner struggle he must have felt as he sealed his fate, creating a legend to last throughout time. To summit Mt. Chocorua is not only achieving a New Hampshire classic, but is also delving into the history of events that entices us to gaze over the mysterious, majestic White Mountains.

Barnstormers Theatre in New Hampshire's Tamworth Village

"To keep vital the value, spirit, and tradition of fine summer theatre in Tamworth and to provide a venue for and to promote varied cultural activities within the region.'

Our History

The year was 1931. It was the first season of The Barnstormers, founded by Francis and Alice Cleveland and Ed Goodnow. Francis, the youngest child of President Grover Cleveland, was already pursuing a career on Broadway when The Barnstormers made its debut in the family's summer hometown of Tamworth, New Hampshire.

The original troupe was composed mostly of young actors - recent graduates from colleges including Harvard, Wellesley, Radcliffe and Amherst. The first director was Goodnow, a graduate of Harvard and George Pierce Baker's "47 Workshop" which later became the renowned Yale School of Drama.

The name "The Barnstormers" was a natural choice as it described exactly what the theatre troupe did - barnstorming from town to town, opening on Monday in Tamworth and then touring towns in Maine and New Hampshire during the week, returning for a final Saturday evening performance in Tamworth at the Tamworth Gardens - a former boxing venue where the audience was often greeted by former First Lady Frances Cleveland dressed in a formal gown. It was an ambitious project as the locations included Sugar Hill, Wolfeboro, Conway, Holderness, and Harrison and Poland Spring, Maine - long hauls even today.

After four years of touring, The Barnstormers bought the old Kimball's Store on Tamworth's Main Street in 1935 and World War II brought an abrupt end to barnstorming. The theatre did its part to keep the home fires burning by showing movies, and, after the war, the building became the troupe's permanent home.

With many updates (like air conditioning!), the theatre today continues to provide the region with what many consider the best live summer theatre in the state. It is one of only three Equity theatres in NH - a professional designation which separates the company from community-based theatres. This summer actors will travel from across the country - most hail from New York City - to participate in the region's longest running summer theatre.

Welcome to Our Family's Campground — A Brief History of your Favorite Get-Away

As you stroll the grounds of Chocorua Camping Village and our activity trails, we hope you enjoy the natural camping environment as much as we do. It doesn't take much to imagine back over 400 years ago when the land was untamed and just starting to populate and be divided into the original Tamworth town lots. Back in the 1600's this area was discovered and utilized by homesteaders to farm and graze their cattle on the nutrient rich hay of the marsh. Moore's pond was so loaded with trout, it was noted, that the area fisher folk netted up to 50 bushels a day. If you want to try your hand at catching some of those tasty ancestors, line and bait your pole and get ready to enter our fishing

Around a century ago, the quick flowing Chocorua River, entering in and exiting out of Moore's Pond, sparked the interest of the Chocorua Innkeepers. They purchased the existing granite mill dam at the southern narrow of the pond, where the river converges. In 1912, the owners of the Chocorua Inn converted the mill dam into a hydroelectric operation hoping to supply energy to part of the town. A year or so later their hard efforts were demolished in the infamous Hundred Year flood, never to be reconstructed. As the eastern portion of the dam was breached, the levy broke and released two thirds of the pond in a few short hours. The 15-foot drop in water level increased the acreage, extended the waterfront line, and allowed the marshlands to thrive again. The remnants of the old granite dam are a beautiful portrait to New England's resourcefulness. We encourage you to take paddle up the narrow in a kayak or canoe and wonder at the ingenuity and tenure it would have taken to cut, haul, and place the huge granite blocks that comprised the picturesque dam. Don't forget to bring along your pole and worms, the bass love to hide in the shade of the underwater rubble.

Years later in the late 1940's, Pastor Edward Hayes, of Chocorua Village Church, admired the land along the Chocorua River and Moore's Pond as he walked the woods with his wife Ruth. After consideration and some ample bargaining, he secured the 185 acre parcel for just a dollar an acre! He started construction on the community of seven rustic cabins in the 1950's, naming them Wabanaki Lodge after the Native American Tribe. All building materials and eventually lodge guests had to be ferried in by rowboat. In those times vacation was a family affair, often lasting all summer, and at Wabanaki Lodge the retreat came complete with a to-do list of projects and chores for the guests to accomplish during their stay!

The early 1970's brought a young Spencer clan to the Tamworth area. Lee and Shirley Spencer had heard family rumors that the land and lodges of Wabanaki were up for sale. Having spent memorable summers at the pond side cabins, the Spencers purchased the lodges and undeveloped property from Leo's Uncle Ed Hayes in 1973. With a 1969 CASE tractor, Lee started the gradual and continual process of road and site construction, keeping the natural environment intact as much as possible. After some harrowing rowboat experiences with 2 young children, a baby, and 2 eager swimming dogs, to get to the main cabin at Wabanaki, the Spencer's residence, a series of bridges were built to access the Lodges.

Chocorua Camping Village opened to the public with 10 sites and a comfort station (bathroom facility) in 1975. While Leo designed and constructed the Rec Hall and Camp Store, Shirley, a 6th grade teacher, spent her summer breaks working the office, maintaining the cabins, and creating the business infrastructure of Wabanaki Lakeside Vacation Corporation. Together, with family and staff they have created nearly 47 years of family vacation opportunities and memories. Chocorua Camping Village continues to grow and improve every year. The dedication of the owners, the managers, and staff keep our campers happy and coming back to relax and enjoy our family legacy year after year.

C.C.V. now has 150 wooded sites, 20 on-site rentals, Moe Z. Moose Café, 2 bathroom facilities with laundromat, a full recreation schedule, 6 miles of nature trails, a swimming pool, beach, store, rec hall, game room, large dog park with day kennels, and the most incredible, friendly staff you'll ever meet! Make this summer a standout one! Come join the family tradition of Chocorua Camping Village KOA. Life is better in nature.

Camp Tales from the 80's

Camp Life Chronicles ~ 1989

Tamara Spencer

We were friends, rivals, enemies. The term "frenemies" wasn't around back in the mideighties, but that's what long-time seasonal kid Brian Godbout and I were for sure. We were always in competition: for time with the 'big kids'—aka my brother and his crew—tip money from firewood deliveries, or enticing new camp kids into our respective "clubs." Mine was the Rad Club; his was undoubtedly something Boston sports or karate related.

I was consistently, naggingly, reminding him that smoking was bad by finding and ripping up his Newports or P-Funks. He constantly annoyed me by jumping out of the woods at night, trying to scare me and my cousins, and cannonballing us when we were trying to swim. It was a love-hate friendship through most of our childhood and teens, becoming more sporadic in our 20s and 30s.

Brian was a lanky city kid from downtown Cambridge, always wearing a Red Sox cap. I was a tomboy ready to prove I was just as capable, fast, and smart as any boy. Brian was a year older than me and about a foot taller. He could sprint on his basketball legs to deliver wood with a pushcart, getting to the new campers faster than I could with my petite gymnast build. Where he cleaned up in speed for delivery tips, I made up for it by being small and agile enough to crawl under the campground porches, scrounging for lost change.

We'd pool our money and share crème horns from the camp store, play pinball, pool, and ping pong until the next CB radio call came in for a wood delivery. Off we'd go! Racing each other to get the pushcart and wood loaded, adrenaline and sugar working us into rivals again.

That 80s-style camp friendship was what summer life was all about. Laughing, building a work ethic, enjoying the outdoors, problem-solving, goofing off, making memories. Though we don't see each other much these days, I know I have a lifetime friend, someone who understands and appreciates me throughout all those thrilling, tumultuous Gen X years. Camp friends. Priceless.

Adventure in the Whites! Hikes & Diews!

Thanks to Greg Parsons who supplied this list and gave us permission to use his research on some of the best hikes and waterfalls in our area! We have edited down this list, but for "difficult" rated hikes and this list in it's entirety visit: www. newenglandwaterfalls.com.

This list is based upon a mix of Greg's experience of hiking nearly all of the major trails in the White Mountains, plus a thorough review of dozens of websites and just about every hiking guidebook that has been published on this area over the last 15 years.

Mt. Mexico - Big Rock Cave

Tamworth, NH Total Length: 1.9 miles Difficulty – MODERATE Elevation Gain: 920 feet

Trailhead and parking are on Rt. 113A in Tamworth, NH (summit is in Albany). Rt. 113A is a loop road, the trailhead is located on the north side of the road, 6.2 miles from the junction with 113 in Tamworth. Park on the side of road immediately after a bridge over the Wonalancet River.

Big Rock Cave, located in the valley of Whitin Brook is between Mt. Mexico and Mt. Paugus. The fascinating feature on this trail are the natural features formed by huge glacial boulders. To access the cave, head into the woods on the wide dirt path of Cabin Trail. The trail does not have a summit per say, but the caves and easy woodland hike are perfect for young or curious explorers!

Artist Bluff

Franconia, NH

Trail Distance: 1.5 miles Difficulty: Easy to Moderate

Parking: Several parking lots near Cannon Mountain. Park and walk to either end of the loop.

Directions: From I-93 (Franconia Notch Parkway) Exit 34C toward Cannon Mountain Ski Resort, go west on NH 18, about a half mile, where you will see a large parking area on your right. There are signs for both the Bald Mountain Trail and the Artist Bluff Trail. The Artist Bluff is a popular 1.5-mile vista loop trail located in Franconia, NH. Echo Lake, Franconia Notch and Cannon ski mountain can be viewed from the expansive rock outlook. This trail is perfect for a short, relatively easy hike with a great, picturesque reward. The trails are best utilized from April until October with the Bald Mt Spur trekked throughout the winter. Dogs are allowed on this trail but must be kept on leash.

West Rattlesnake

Center Sandwich, NH

1.8 miles - EASY SIDE OF MODERATE 23.9 miles to Chocorua KOA

One of the best views of lakes to be found anywhere in New England; located north of Squam Lake; access via the moderately steep Old Bridle Path (out-and-back); photographs never do this place justice, so you'll just have to make a visit yourself; closed for most of April and May each year due to the "mud season."

Each of these hikes in or near the White Mountain National Forest is outstandingly scenic - you can't go wrong with any of them (unless, of course, if you hike them in poor weather).

Mom and Dad Spencer ~ The Living Legacy

Chocorua Camping Village owners, Lee and Shirley Spencer, have contributed a good portion of their life to building and constantly improving your camping and lodging retreat. Over the past 50 and more years, the Spencers have cultivated a desire to share their love of the outdoors, travel, and education with as many people as possible. You can feel the fruits of their efforts as you talk to the friendly, dedicated staff, walk on the numerous trails, and enjoy the many camp amenities they created for your enjoyment.

Lee has designed, built, and overseen the development of CCV from thickly wooded, raw acreage to the full amenity Holiday Park it is today. He served as a New Hampshire State Representative, has taught, and done research for both Duke and NH Universities. Lee helped start the local Chamber of Commerce with my Mom, as well as serving as Board Director for the NH Campground Owners Association. His vision for the campground is ever-expanding and he keeps up with the steady innovation that comes from being part of the KOA system. My Dad enjoys his classic cars, traveling to warm climates in the winter, and daily walks year-round. He can still be seen improving the grounds with the same Case tractor with which the camp was built. When he does take off to enjoy life, it's often by motorhome to campgrounds across the States. It can be said, camping is his passion.

Shirley has over 50 years of experience in patience being married to a visionary entrepreneur with an engineer mind!

Mom gained this patience and sharp New England wit having taught 5th and 6th grade in N.C. and Dover, N.H. for over 35 years. Shirley has led and attended numerous educational and environmental study trips and was instrumental in providing experiential education by headed programs like Mini Society, a young entrepreneur club, and Students Against Drunk Driving. Mom built the administrative aspect of the family business and had the last of her four children (me!) early because she was 9 months pregnant cleaning cabins! There was no such thing as summer break for this teacher, she was busy building the legacy; running the office, store, cabins and more! Shirley enjoys a peaceful cup of coffee in the morning, traveling, visiting the kids, reading and walking Ms. Ivy.

When they are not conjuring up new projects for the managers or trying to keep the books straight, you may see them on the nature trails with their Aussie Ivy or drivin' off in the Magenta MG to visit with family and friends. During the off season they pack up the RV and go traveling to Florida, Abaco, Bahamas, Colorado. What a Life! So, when you see Lee and Shirley bouncing around this summer, say "Hi" and ask them "What are you up to now?!" ...guaranteed you'll get an interesting story!

From Our House to Yours!

One of the reasons Chocorua KOA is a top rated and highly reviewed camp and lodging destination is our amazing staff. Our park has come a long way from a 10-site campground run solely by my folks, Lee and Shirley Spencer, to 150 site, 20 lodge park with a dedicated and super friendly crew of 35+! Chocorua KOA is headed by the Spencers, and as they transition to retirement, their youngest daughter, Tamara Spencer is taking the reins. Working closely with Lee, Shirley, and Park Manager Bob Ouellette our team is accomplishing quite a few projects to bring our camping guests an ever-improving vacation destination. Tamara grew up in the campground family business, has degrees in business management, is a board member on the local Chamber of Commerce, and is an active member of the UNH CEO and Family Enterprise Center. She has attended Campground School and earned a CPO (Certified Park Operator) degree. Who knew that was a thing!? When not campground-ing, she hangs out with her Aussie Boda and loves Great Guana Cay in Abaco, Bahamas.

Bob is local to Wakefield, NH and has been a seasonal camper at CCV for over 10 years. He has worked up the ranks from Back-Up Bob to running and overseeing the crew, projects and everything grounds and staff related. Bob is a school board member, active in his community, and uses his diplomatic skills to keep our staff and quests happy, safe, and coming back year after year. Check out the Giving Tree; in the Pavilion, Bob and his wife Sandy built for Care Camp Sunshine!

You'll surely meet Paul, Lee's brother, who helped build the campground and still is the main operator of the tractors as well as the go-to guy for all infrastructure knowledge. Steve and Gloria live on-grounds and head up the office and photography. Doris keeps our store in tip-top shape with Pam and Pat. Nancy S. grew up here at CCV and does many things including the grounds. Joyce Watson keeps our lodging sparkling with a wonderful, hardworking housekeeping crew. Joyce's husband Fred maintains the grounds and works on numerous projects with longtime seasonal Bob W. FreeLee and Patches make sure all our equipment is running smoothly. Jill and Boyd tend and beautify our flowers and landscaping. Bex, the best painter ever, makes sure every building looks sharp and fresh. Butch and Jen cook it up in the tasty Moe Z Café assisted on register by Grand-Daughter and Niece Brynn. Cathy W. and Sophia whoop up the fun and entertainment in the weekly and theme weekends rec program.

Thank you all for getting it done with smiles on your faces and twinkles on your toes! We appreciate all our crew members and hope you will love them as much as we do! If you see a yellow shirt, say "Hi!' and see what gems of insight they have to offer. Happy staff = happy campers!

CHOCORUA CAMPING VILLAGE

CHAIN PICKEREL -

Like other members of the pike family, the chain pickerel (also called Eastern pickerel), has a slender, elongated body, large mouth with distinctive teeth, and dorsal and anal fins located far back near the tail. A characteristic pattern of dark, chainlike markings on the sides distinguishes it from other members of the pike family. Quiet, shallow water with a silty bottom, an abundance of aquatic vegetation and food fishes is an ideal habitat for the chain pickerel. Their optimum water temperature is 80 to 90 degrees. Pickerel like to hide in weeds waiting for a minnow meal to swim by. The chain pickerel is a voracious carnivore. Its diet includes yellow perch and sunfish. Trolling, still fishing with a live minnow or frog, or spin casting with plugs, spinners, or spoons all produce good results.

SMALLMOUTH BASS -MICROPTERUS DOLOMIEUI

The smallmouth bass is a member of the black bass family. It prefers lakes and streams with cool, clear water, a gravelly or rocky bottom, and scant vegetation. You can find this fish in the lake near the submerged wreckage of the Dam in water 3 to 15 feet deep. Several methods may be used to take smallmouths, including fly casting with floating bugs, and trolling or casting with a plug or spinner. The most common and successful method is still fishing with live bait such as

Nature Trail Malk

To start your nature trail adventure, walk down to Wabanaki Lodge parking and take a right onto the pathway over the bridges (Trail marker #1). You will go through the wooded island and over the Long Bridge. This beautiful boardwalk spans across the freshwater marsh that sustains life for Blue and Grey Herons, turtles, frogs, fish, and many birds, as well as beaver and moose. Once you cross the 3rd bridge by the Dog Beach, pick up a laminated trail map at the kiosk.

Take the left trail at Marker #2, River Run Trail. This trail is flat and there are numerous roots to navigate. At Marker #3, veer left to stay on River Run Trail. About halfway you will encounter a picnic table on the Chocorua River. Have a snack or let the pups take a dip.

Chocorua River and Pine Barrens ~ Approx. 2 miles

Observe the area near the trail, there is a beaver lodge under construction!

Continue on River Run until you see Marker #7, veer right onto Hawk Valley Trail. At marker #6 take the lefthand Carriage Road Connector and left again onto Knowles Hill Trail at #5. Continue on Knowles Hill Trail until you arrive at Marker #14. Take a right onto Hidden Valley Ridge Trail. This section of forest is a withering Quacking Aspen stand that we hope regenerates.

You will go down a hill, staying to the right at Marker #10, go a tad further and take a right at Marker #9. You are back at our Dog Beach and Rainbow Bridge! Congratulations! You've explored your way through about a third of our property trails. Have fun, carry a snack, and stay hydrated!
