Adventures For Your Furry Family

Our family owned and operated park cares a great deal about our four-legged kin. We value the companionship and honest love our fur babies give us happily, with the wag of a tail. As a pet adoring community of Chocorua Camping Village KOA, we are committed to maintaining and enhancing our facilities ensuring all your family members will be included in the outdoor fun.

We have over 5 miles of woodland and riverside trails, well-marked and map guided, to give you and your pup plenty of forest air and exercise. At the entrance of the pine needle pathway is our Dog Beach. Paddling around the cool waters and fetching sticks in the Chocorua River are a dog's delight, and sure to make you laugh at their joyous romping.

One of our most interesting canine aspects is the 15,000 sq. foot fenced

Dog Park which has a full-size AKC Agility course and Doggie Day-Care kennels. If you want to go off for the day, we will have a buddy stay with your pup and allow them to play in the park. Dates of availability and Day-Care prices can be found at [www.chocorua camping.com](http://www.chocorua camping.com).

When your favorite camping canine begs you to make a reservation here at CCV, be our guest! We have tenting, Pop-Up and RV sites as well as pet friendly cabins and plenty of treats! When making plans to bring your furry pal, here are a few things to consider:

- Bring updated Rabies and Kennel Cough vaccination paperwork,
- Please keep pets on leash. Dog Park and Dog Beach are leash-free, at discretion,
- Clean up after your dog. Baggies are available at stations throughout park,
- Do not leave a dog unattended at a

- campsite,
  - If your dog has a loud and boisterous personality, please do not bring it to entertainment functions,
  - Please control barking; your neighbors are here to relax,
  - Keep dogs off the beach and out of public buildings. (State law.)
  - If you have a pet of the following breeds: Rottweiler, Pitbull, any mix of those breeds, or an aggressive dog of any breed, we recommend a nearby kennel.
- Camping with pets can be a satisfying, relaxing, and memorable experience. We hope you and your fur family will join us for a wagging-tail happy outdoor vacation at our Chocorua Camping Village. See you soon!

What our Campers Say...

“This place has it all. Extremely well thought out. Dog beach. Lots of walking trails, store, playground, beach for swimming with lounge chairs, boat rental, etc. Sites have green areas between RV or tent sites, staff are friendly and accommodating. We love this campground. Lots of activities and close to the heart of New Hampshire's fun.” -Laurie R.

“Wow. First time here, And after only 30 min. I'm really impressed with the people here. Very serviceable, courteous and customer service is definitely outstanding. Finally a camp ground quiet, clean, friendly we will be back for sure and now I'll be looking more into the others KOA.” -Helen G.

“We come every year for two weeks for the past 4 years. Grandsons hate to leave and want to extend every year our time here. The campground is close to many outdoor activities, private lake to kayak and fish on, and a pool! There's no other campground I know where you can enjoy all these activities in one place.

Grandkids always find friends and ones they see every year we come back. The campground is kid friendly and we love they can run off on their bikes and enjoy the freedom to be kids and it's safe!! There are always crafts and activities for the children and family ones throughout the week.

Words can't be found to explain the gem this campground is. -Lori Y.

Wabanaki Lodge

76th Season!
A Unique Family Experience

Secluded Camping Under A Roof!

Named after a local branch of Native Americans, Wabanaki Lodge is a community of 6 rustic cabins, available for couples and families.

These cabins offer a natural and peaceful setting for relaxing and getting away from everyday commotion. At the lodges there are no cars, no telephones, no electricity; the cabins are only accessible by footbridge or boat.

Wabanaki guests have access to a private beach and dock, playground equipment, and a community fire pit, as well as Chocorua Camping Village's recreational activities and equipment.

Each of these off-grid, cabins has its own Native American name and camp charm. All the cabins come with propane stove, refrigerator and lights as well as dishes, utensils and pots & pans. Three of the cabins have bathrooms with shower stalls and hot water; the other three have cold running water and their own private "out house" (full bathhouses with hot water showers are located at the campground, just a short walk away).

All have either a woodstove, fireplace or propane wall heater for warmth and enjoyment.

Beds with pillows are supplied at each cabin; however guests are asked to bring their own sleeping bags &/or linen.

Linen may also be rented in emergency, from our housekeeping department should you forget them.

Adahi ~ Meaning 'by the water' is our smallest cabin, perfect for couples or families with small children. This cabin has one double bed and two twin beds. It has large curtain windows for a great breeze, as well as a private waterfront deck.

Kamaki ~ the 'friendship' cabin is an all time favorite. Wood planking and exposed rafters make this cabin a great family or group retreat. One double bed in the loft, another double in the "master" room, single bunk beds and another single in a room off the kitchen. One of the largest cabins Kamaki sleeps 7 people. The brick fireplace makes for pleasant night chats and warm lazy mornings. A welcome addition to Kamaki in 2017 was a bathroom with hot water and a shower stall.

Talaki ~ the cabin 'in the woods' is one of our three rustic lodging with hot water, shower and toilet facilities. It's a cozy little lodge with a propane wall heater, a newly expanded, bedroom with 1 double and 1 single bed, as well as a double bed in the living room area. Great for families, Talaki sleeps 5.

Tepee ~ 'Native American home'. Our expanded 'A-frame' cottage has a large loft with sliding glass door which opens to a private deck. The loft has a double and two single beds.

There is also a separate downstairs bedroom with a double bed. Thus the cottage can sleep a maximum of 6. Tepee has a fireplace and a bathroom with a shower stall. The front 12' deck with benches and picnic table allows for pleasant outdoor gatherings, as does, the outdoor campfire fireplace.

Woronoake ~ Named after a 'Tribe of Indians', this cabin is a favorite for its screened porch bedroom. It has one double bed, bunk beds and a single bed. A Franklin fireplace will keep you toasty on cold nights. Woronoake sleeps 5.

Natseke ~ 'In the pines' has a wonderful open airy living room overlooking the pond. It also has a porch - like bedroom with a double bed and a bunked room. Large windows let plenty of light in, and there is a Franklin fireplace to keep you nice and warm. Natseke sleeps 4.

Wabanaki is a vacation tradition: swimming, bonfires and s'mores, star gazing and contemplation. So come leave the hustle and bustle behind and have a relaxing and enjoyable vacation.

Barnstormers Theatre in New Hampshire's Tamworth Village

Our Mission

"To keep vital the value, spirit, and tradition of fine summer theatre in Tamworth and to provide a venue for and to promote varied cultural activities within the region."

Our History

The year was 1931. It was the first season of The Barnstormers, founded by Francis and Alice Cleveland and Ed Goodnow. Francis, the youngest child of President Grover Cleveland, was already pursuing a career on Broadway when The Barnstormers made its debut in the family's summer hometown of Tamworth, New Hampshire.

The original troupe was composed mostly of young actors – recent graduates from colleges including Harvard, Wellesley, Radcliffe and Amherst. The first director was Goodnow, a graduate of Harvard and George Pierce Baker's "47 Workshop" which later became the renowned Yale School of Drama.

The name "The Barnstormers" was a natural choice as it described exactly what the theatre troupe did – barnstorming from town to town, opening on Monday in Tamworth and then touring towns in Maine and New Hampshire during the week, returning for a final Saturday evening performance in Tamworth at the Tamworth Gardens – a former boxing venue where the audience was often greeted by former First Lady Frances Cleveland dressed in a formal gown. It was an ambitious project as the locations included Sugar Hill, Wolfeboro, Conway, Holderness, and Harrison and Poland Spring, Maine – long hauls even today.

After four years of touring, The Barnstormers bought the old Kimball's Store on Tamworth's Main Street in 1935 and orld War II brought an abrupt end to barnstorming. The theatre did its part to keep the home fires burning by showing movies, and, after the war, the building became the troupe's permanent home.

With many updates (like air conditioning!), the theatre today continues to provide the region with what many consider the best live summer theatre in the state. It is one of only three Equity theatres in NH – a professional designation which separates the company from community-based theatres. This summer actors will travel from across the country – most hail from New York City – to participate in the region's longest running summer theatre.

Spend an Enjoyable Day on the Farm in the Heart of Tamworth Village

A short drive from the Chocorua Camping Village-KOA, and nestled in quaint Tamworth Village, you will find one of New Hampshire's hidden gems, Remick Country Doctor Museum & Farm. This unique attraction offers all generations of visitors a glimpse into the important contributions once made by country doctors, and hands-on learning activities based on the agricultural way of life in New Hampshire from 1790 to present.

Settled over 200 years ago by the prominent Remick family, a visit to the Remick farmstead provides the opportunity for visitors to surround themselves in the daily activities of a farm. The historic nature of the site makes it easy to imagine life as it might have been lived by the two country doctors who owned and lived on the property, Dr. Edwin Remick and his son, Dr. Edwin "Doc" Crafts Remick. Together, after graduating from medical school at the University of Vermont College of Medicine and Tufts College Medical School, respectively, they served the rural community where they were born and raised. They provided 99 years of continuous medical care to Tamworth and surrounding towns and saw to the "cradle to grave" needs of the community until their deaths.

The Museum Center is located in the house Doc Remick shared with his wife, Marion Ella Miles Remick. Once a tourist guest house, today visitors can walk through their modest, second-floor living quarters, some of which is unchanged from the time Doc and Marion called it home. The apartment is a delightful step back in time and makes for lively intergenerational conversations. Additional exhibits include "Where Home Meets Harvest: New England Kitchen Gardens, 1790-1945" and incorporates three outdoor gardens, and "Our Medicine Through Time," which helps visitors understand how medicines progressed from backyard gathering and in-home creation to the local pharmacy, including a visit to a simulated soda fountain counter, once common in drug stores.

Across the farm grounds are historical barns and buildings to view and explore. One of these is the Captain Enoch Remick House, built circa 1808, and is the location for the original doctors' office shared by both Drs. Remick and a fascinating medicine room where medicines were prepared. This impressive house, now listed on the National Register of Historic Places, was Doc's boyhood home and contains many artifacts of the Remick family and 19th-century murals attributed to the American painter John Avery. A medical timeline and displays of medical equipment, advertising, ledgers, journals, books, and medicine jars are on display. Guided tours are given once daily.

There is much to explore outdoors, too. Meet and greet the farm's sheep, goats, dairy cows, beef cattle, chickens and pigs, and a miniature horse named Sadie. The immediate museum property covers approximately 60 acres which means there is plenty of room to roam. Slope-side gardens grow vegetables, dye plants, medicinal herbs, and a children's interactive play garden. A memorial flower garden offers a quiet spot from which to imagine a simpler time.

A walking trail with kiosks allows for learning and idyllic views of pastures, the farm pond, distinctive Mount Chocorua and the Ossipee Mountain Range; an interactive, exploratory walk can be found along the Swift River. Bird lovers will find many species to observe and photographers will find abundant subject matter. Visitors are encouraged to bring a picnic; covered and open-air picnic tables are located on the grounds, including the bank of the Swift River.

To intersperse with self-led explorations, from mid-June through early September, interactive programming is available daily and planned with all generations of visitors in mind. Activities include a farm tour, farm chores, and a milking demonstration. Full details are provided online during the season.

In the Museum Store, fresh eggs, farm-raised meats, farm-produced herbal products, dried herbs and teas, Remick-made maple syrup and locally produced honey can be purchased. The store also offers a selection of Remick hats, t-shirts and sweatshirts, a cookbook and other Museum-related items.

Remick Country Doctor Museum & Farm is open Monday-Saturday, 10 a.m.-4 p.m., and brings all ages of visitors together for a meaningful learning experience. A "back-in-time" admission price of $5 per person (free for children ages 4 and under) makes it an affordable outing for families.

As a Blue Star Museum, active-duty military (including Reserve and National Guard) and their family members enjoy free admission from Memorial Day Weekend to Labor Day Weekend (closed on the holidays), which the museum extends to veterans and one guest.

Visit the Remick website—www.remickmuseum.org—or call 603-323-7591 for further details. Remick Museum & Farm is located just off Route 113, at 58 Cleveland Hill Rd. in Tamworth Village, and can also be found on Facebook and Instagram. Open year-round.

Tamworth Farmers' Market...

A Tamworth Tradition

• The town of Tamworth, just 4.5 miles away, has an open-air farmers' market every Saturday through Columbus Day. Take a short journey, enjoy local flavor and inspired to grill up your goods

• The Tamworth Farmers' Market (TFM) seeks to encourage buying local produce and goods to help support local farming and related enterprises. Support local New Hampshire farmers, bakers, brewers, crafters and even candlestick makers at the crossroads of 113, 113A and Main St. in Tamworth Village.

• The market is held 9am-1pm in the parking lot of the Unitarian Universalist, which presents picturesque views of the Behr Farm and the Ossipee Mountains in one direction, Mount Chocorua in the other.

• You can browse tents or find a seat under a shaded umbrella while listening to local music and having a late breakfast or leisurely lunch.

• The market has 20-25 regular vendors who specialize in seasonal crops, berries, and fruit. The market is bursting with a long list of offerings: home-raised pork, lamb, beef, chicken, vegetables, herbs, plants, sheep and goat cheese, yogurt, kefir, maple sugar and syrup, honey, preserves, breads and baked goods, prepared lunch, and NH Mushroom Co.'s local fungi both cultivated and foraged.

Our Namesake... Mount Chocorua

The Legend...

Part of the Sandwich mountain range, Mount Chocorua, stands picturesque, framed by sky and tree. It is one of New Hampshire's most beloved mountains for its great hiking trails and beautiful familiarity.

Mt. Chocorua received its fame after 1725, when the Pequawket Indians and the settlers River in Canada. Only one proud and bold Indian chief stayed behind; Chief Chocorua. Chocorua kept his young son Tuamba with him in the mountains, teaching him to hunt and instilling the love, resource, and pride of nature within him.

The Chief befriended a settler family, the Campbells, in the town now named Tamworth. Cornelius Campbell, his wife of the settler's kitchen, one day trying a dish that was meant to kill the wolves attacking the Campbell's cattle. It was strong poison meant for large animals; Tuamba became very ill and died. With heavy hearts, the Campbells buried Tuamba in their farm field.

Two months later, while Cornelius was away from the farm, Chief Chocorua returned to find his little son dead and buried. Agony and betrayal coursing through his blood; he slit Caroline's throat, mortally wounded her son, and ran off screaming to his mountains.

When Cornelius returned to his cabin and found his family slain, he knew it was Chocorua. He grabbed his musket and ran to the mountains to avenge his family. He pursued Chocorua to the highest peak of the mountain. Chocorua stood on the edge of the highest boulder, looking at the only white man he'd called friend; he knew that Cornelius would kill him, so he raised his arms to the sky and shouted "Evil spirits breathe death upon the cattle of the white man. Wind and fire destroy your dwellings. Panthers and wolves howl and fatten on your bones. Chocorua goes now to the Great Spirit." And he leapt off the mountain, crushing his body and releasing his legend on the rocks far below.

Exactly two years later the body of Cornelius Campbell was found in the woods near his cabin, partially eaten by wolves; no explanation of his demise evident. The mountain people believed in the curse of Chocorua, and dissuaded many farmers from settling the area of Tamworth and Conway, New Hampshire. One hundred years to the day of the Pequawket Chief Chocorua's death, a devastating plague killed all the cattle from Albany to Conway, New Hampshire.

Remember this haunting legend when you reach the peak of Chocorua. Look out over the mountains he called home, imagine the inner struggle he must have felt as he sealed his fate, creating a legend to last throughout time. To summit Mt. Chocorua is not only achieving a New Hampshire classic, but is also delving into the history of events that entices us to gaze over the mysterious, majestic White Mountains.

of the area, under direction from British Army Captain Lovewell, fought against each other in the first and last battle of the White Mountains. Men on both sides were killed and the Pequawket tribe picked up their village and moved to the banks of the St. Lawrence

Caroline and their ten year old son Cornelius Jr. agreed to care for little Tuamba while Chief Chocorua was called away to a Pow Wow in Canada. Tuamba loved playing with Cornelius Jr. and very much enjoyed Caroline's cooking. He acquired a curiosity of the different tastes

Remembering Adventures with Bentley

By Lee Spencer

On Dec. 12th Shirley, I, Minnie and our family, lost a very loved and loving family member. Bentley had just turned fifteen, he was a very special pup and will be deeply missed. He was cherished by us and, we believed, he enjoyed his life with us as much as we enjoyed him.

He had so many varied experiences and travels, and seemed to loved them all. Born in Key West Florida to Buster and Mischief, the Aussies who claimed Tammie as their caretaker, Bentley at three months old, nervously, took his first of many motorhome trips north from Key West to

New Hampshire. On this his first adventure away from the security of his parents and siblings, he had a chance to investigate a "low country" beach in South Carolina and with much anxiety met, very scary stumps protruding from the sand as well as an equally frightening horseshoe crab. He was happy and exhausted to be back on the road sleeping contentedly on the RV sofa.

Over the next few months he was introduced to the family home in Lee as well as Chocorua Camping Village and or summer cottage at Wabanaki Lodge, where he loved to run on the trails and frolic at the beach. Late that fall Buster and Mischief produced a, second litter, sister and playmate for Bentley to oversee and protect, Minnie.

Over the ensuing years, Bentley and Minnie became inseparable and confident motor home travelers, flying partners and ferry boat passengers, on our annual trips to the "Anchorage" in the Bahamas. They both especially loved walking and running along the beach at Great Guana Cay, chasing sand pipers, swimming in the surf, retrieving coconuts from the waves, (a trick taught them by their Pa, Buster), and more than anything else seeking out sand crabs and digging huge holes in search of the illusive critters, which they seldom were able to catch, and release for fear of a nose nip.

The long, slow, motor home trips to Colorado provided both Bentley and sister Minnie ample opportunity to experience a vast collection of new smells at campground dog parks, roadside stops and the rabbit filled community of western branch of the Spencer clan.

Though we: Shirley, Lee and Minnie deeply mourn the loss of Bentley we are so grateful for the wonderful and exciting fifteen years we had with him.

How C.C.V. Came to be...

A Brief History of your Favorite Vacation Spot

As you stroll the grounds of Chocorua Camping Village and our activity trails, we hope you enjoy the natural camping environment as much as we do. It doesn't take much to imagine back over 400 years ago when the land was untamed and just starting to populate and be divided into the original Tamworth town lots. Back in the 1600's this area was discovered and utilized by homesteaders to farm and graze their cattle on the nutrient rich hay of the marsh. Moore's pond was so loaded with trout, it was noted, that the area fisher folk netted up to 50 bushels a day. If you want to try your hand at catching some of those tasty ancestors, line and bait your pole and get ready to enter our fishing derby!

Around a century ago, the quick flowing Chocorua River, entering in and exiting out of Moore's Pond, sparked the interest of the Chocorua Innkeepers. They purchased the existing granite mill dam at the southern narrow of the pond, where the river converges. In 1912, the owners of the Chocorua Inn converted the mill dam into a hydro-electric operation hoping to supply energy to part of the town. A year or so later their hard efforts were demolished in the infamous Hundred Year flood, never to be reconstructed. As the eastern portion of the dam was breached, the levy broke and released two thirds of the pond in a few short hours. The 15 foot drop in water level increased the acreage, extended the waterfront line, and allowed the marshlands to thrive again.

The remnants of the old granite dam are a beautiful portrait to New England's resourcefulness. We encourage you to take paddle up the narrow in a kayak or canoe and wonder at the ingenuity and tenure it would have taken to cut, haul, and place the huge granite blocks that comprised the picturesque dam. Don't forget to bring along your pole and worms, the bass love to hide in the shade of the underwater rubble.

Years later in the late 1940's, Pastor Edward Hayes, of Chocorua Village Church, admired the land along the Chocorua River and Moore's Pond as he walked the woods with his wife Ruth. After consideration and some ample bargaining he secured the 185 acre parcel for just a dollar an acre! He started construction on the community of seven rustic cabins in the 1950's, naming them Wabanaki Lodge after the Native American Tribe. All building materials and eventually Lodge guests had to be ferried in by rowboat. In those times vacation was a family affair, often lasting all summer, and at Wabanaki Lodge the retreat came complete with a to-do list of projects and chores for the guests to accomplish during their stay!

The early 1970's brought a young Spencer clan to the Tamworth area. Leo and Shirley Spencer had heard through family rumors that the land and lodges of Wabanaki were up for sale. Having spent memorable summers at the pond side cabins, the Spencers purchased the lodges and undeveloped property from Leo's Uncle Ed Hayes in 1973.

With a 1969 CASE tractor, Lee started the gradual and continual process of road and site construction, keeping the natural environment intact as much as possible. After some harrowing rowboat experiences with 2 young children, a baby, and 2 eager swimming dogs, to get to the main cabin at Wabanaki, the Spencer's residence, a series of bridges were built to access the Lodges. Chocorua Camping Village opened up to the public with 10 sites and a comfort station (bathroom facility) in 1975. While Leo designed and constructed the Rec Hall and Camp Store, Shirley, a 6th grade teacher, spent her summer breaks working the office, maintaining the cabins, and creating the business infrastructure of Wabanaki Lakeside Vacation Corporation. Together, with family and staff they have created nearly 45 years of family vacation opportunities and memories. Chocorua Camping Village continues to grow and improve every year. The dedication of the owners, the managers, and staff keep our guests coming back to rejoin our family camping experience and to see what's new this year. How about you?

C.C.V. now has 150 wooded sites, 16 on-site rentals, 2 bathroom facilities with Laundromat, a full recreation schedule, 5 miles of nature trails, a swimming pool, beach, store, Rec Hall, game room, large dog park with day kennels and the most incredible, friendly staff you'll ever meet! Make this summer a standout one! Come join the family tradition of Chocorua Camping Village; with any luck you may even get out of the to-do chore list!

The Fishing Line

BROOK TROUT -

The Brown and Brook Trout are native to eastern North America, the brookie is New Hampshire's official state fish and favorite game fish. It is easily caught with flies or small spinners. Earthworms are the most effective live bait. Brook trout are carnivores, feeding on all sorts of aquatic insects and as stream-dwellers, they eat many terrestrial insects that fall into the water. Brook trout also occasionally eat fish and other vertebrates, such as salamanders, tadpoles, snakes and other small animals. It is possible to catch a 4-pound trout in Moores Pond.

silvery-green fish, dark green on top and light underneath. The spines on the back are sharp, and these fish should be handled with care. White perch originally ranged in coastal waters from South Carolina to Nova Scotia. It has been successfully introduced into many New Hampshire inland waters. The white perch is a determined fighter when hooked and one of our tastier and more popular panfishes. It is an easy fish to catch and will accept most any kind of bait: worms, live minnows, pork rind, artificial flies, and spoons. White perch fishing is best at dusk, when schools of feeding fish tend to move into shallows near shore.

SMALLMOUTH BASS - MICROPTERUS DOLOMIEUI

The smallmouth bass is a member of the black bass family. It prefers lakes and streams with cool, clear water, a gravelly or rocky bottom, and scant vegetation. You can find this fish in the lake near the submerged wreckage of the Dam in water 3 to 15 feet deep. Several methods may be used to take smallmouths, including fly casting with floating bugs, and trolling or casting with a plug or spinner. The most common and successful method is still fishing with live bait such as worms.

CHAIN PICKEREL - ESOX NIGER

Like other members of the pike family, the Eastern pickerel, has a slender, elongated body, large mouth with formidable teeth, and dorsal and anal fins placed far back near the tail. A characteristic pattern of dark, chain-like markings on the sides distinguishes it from other members of the pike family. Any quiet, shallow water with a mud bottom, an abundance of aquatic vegetation and food fishes is ideal habitat for the chain pickerel. Pickerel like to hide in weeds waiting for a meal to swim by. The chain pickerel is also a carnivore. Its diet includes golden shiners, brown bullheads, yellow perch and sunfish. Trolling, still fishing with a live minnow or frog, or spin-casting with plugs, spinners or spoons all produce good results.

PICKEREL CAKES

Note: Don't leave these fish on a stringer or in a live well for long. Get them gutted and on ice quickly or they'll turn mushy. Remove the skin prior to cooking.

Ingredients:
Cleaned and skinned Pickerel Eggs,
Breadcrumbs, Oil

Pickerel tend to be very boney, but firm and sweet. If you don't want to deal with the bones, grind the cleaned fish in a food processor or blender. Add a little egg and breadcrumbs to make fish cakes for frying.

Fry in a cast-iron skillet, over the fire in a medium coat of oil.

FANCY FRIED BASS

Serves 2

Ingredients:
3 lb Small Mouth Bass 1/2 tsp Salt
1/4 tsp Black Pepper 1 cup Flour
4 Tbl Butter 2 cups Mushrooms
1/2 cup Green onions/Scallions 4 Tbl Dry White Wine
2 Tbl Lemon Juice

Melt butter in cast-iron skillet over campfire. Place flour on a plate, and sprinkle the filets with salt and pepper, then dredge both sides in the flour. Fry the filets until golden brown on both sides. Set aside and keep warm. Add mushrooms and scallions to remaining melted butter. Saute about 3-5 minutes then stir in wine and lemon juice. Pour mixture over the filets and enjoy your catch!

PEPPER HONEY-BUTTER TROUT

Servings 2

Ingredients:
2 lb Trout Filets 2 Tbl Crushed Black Pepper
2 Tbl White Pepper or Cajun Spice 2 Tbl Olive Oil
1 Stick Butter - softened 4 Tbl Honey

Mix honey with the softened butter and set aside. Cut Trout filets into serving size pieces and coat both sides with the 2 types of pepper. Heat olive oil in skillet over fire and fry the fillet pieces for 3-4 minutes on one side. Flip and fry the other side for 4-5 minutes. Remove trout from skillet and coat with honey butter mixture. Enjoy fireside!

Castle in the Clouds: Historic Estate, Unmatched Views

Among the Lakes Region’s most beautiful destinations is Castle in the Clouds, a non-profit, 135-acre estate that provides one of the most stunning views of New Hampshire’s largest lake, surrounding mountains, and over 5,500 acres of conserved land. Just thirty minutes away and listed on the National Register of Historic Places, it is home to Lucknow, a 1914 mountaintop mansion. The property includes something for all ages to enjoy, with an on-site restaurant, ice cream stand, horseback riding, nearly thirty miles of hiking and walking trails, seven waterfalls, a trout-feeding pond, picnic areas, and venue space for private events. Like stepping back in time, guests ride a vintage trolley to the mansion to learn the estate’s rich history and explore “the Castle,” admiring its Arts and Crafts architecture, hand-hewn details and expert craftsmanship during a self-guided tour. The home’s technologically advanced systems like central vacuum, intercom, and ammonia brine refrigeration can also be discovered in a guided tour of its basement, an intimate “behind the scenes” experience. Outside the Castle, lush and colorful gardens line the lake-side lawn, with rosebushes, flower-filled stanchions, and panoramic views.

The journey to the property begins at its main entrance, where visitors enjoy driving up the mountainside along Shannon Brook, with sights like a giant glacial erratic, 40-foot waterfall and epic vistas along the way. The Carriage House is often the first stop for many guests, with lake-view dining and an exhibit gallery. From 2020-2021, visitors can enjoy learning about how Lucknow’s original owner made his fortune in its current exhibit, “The Shoes that Built the Castle”. In addition to all the property has to offer, Castle in the Clouds hosts educational and enriching activities like bird watching, stargazing and solar gazing, guided hikes, a family fun day, and more. Be sure to visit castleinthecLOUDS.org or call 603-476-5900 to learn more about the Castle and what programs are available during your stay at the Chocorua KOA!

Seasonal Life at Chocorua KOA!

By Katie Sweet

As the years go by, more and more families have caught the camping bug. If you love to spend your summer camping, "going seasonal" might just be the best thing for you and your family. We see the seasonal lifestyle as an affordable vacation home to call your own! And with fifty seasonal sites at Chocorua KOA, you will be sure to find your "summer family" with us!

Weekend camping has been a favorite pastime for years and years and we love it! But we are also familiar with all it takes to get away for one weekend.

Something like this; you get everything packed on Friday, arrive Friday night, unpack... only to enjoy Saturday and then pack up to go home on Sunday. You get home on Sunday and unpack everything from the weekend. Is it worth it? When you consider the packing, traveling and unpacking, it really only leaves one day of camping. Why to get away for a week for less than $5,000. If you make seasonal camping your summer vacation, you are getting an entire season of enjoyment for the cost of one vacation.

2. I like to camp at other places.

We do too! We have seasonals who have other favorite spots that they are sure to hit every year. Why park your camper in your yard, when you can park it at your favorite campground and travel when you get the urge?

3. Can I leave my camper there over the winter? As long as you are coming back the following year, absolutely! There is no extra fee for this.

From potlucks to nightly fires to your family making lifelong friends, the seasonals have made some treasured memories here at Chocorua KOA. For more information on seasonal camping and available sites, call our office at 603-323-8536!

stay with us for a weekend, if you can stay for twenty?

If you love one campground enough to stay for the summer, seasonal camping might be for you. Here are some concerns that we hear a lot about seasonal camping:

1. Seasonal camping seems expensive. The average seasonal cost is $3,000-$4,000 per year. Yes, this is a lot of money. But, how much would you spend on a week vacation including airfare? You would be hard pressed

Designed with the farm-to-glass approach, you can sample the spirits with a flight of 3 or 5 of your choice. The atmosphere is country chic and carries an eclectic array of bitters, cocktail ingredients, glassware, home goods, and branded merchandise.

Try the liquors, buy some souvenirs, then take a stroll through the gardens, past the barrel barn, and dip your toes in the Swift River. Feel and enjoy the sunshine and bounty that a small country town provides. Cheers!

Explore the Country Town of Tamworth

By Tamara Spencer

The Tamworth, Chocorua, and Ossipee areas have always been known for their scenic environment and wonderful farm fresh produce. Nowadays tastes are becoming more refined, and along with our fantastic Farmers' Markets, folks are operating some amazing new locally-made businesses. Start your day off right with a short journey to the home of Betty Schneider. Betty owns and creates Scandinavian Baking at 12 Deer Hill Rd in Chocorua. Take a right off of Rt. 16 at the blinking light junction of Rt. 113, going towards Madison. There at her home she bakes delightful cakes, breads, cookies and muffins. Betty holds a traditional 10am and 2pm serving of Cardamom Coffee Cake or Swedish Coffee Braid. Open Tuesday thru Saturday from 7am to 4pm, stop in and have a coffee and fresh baked treat. Betty recalls her grandparents and mother saying often in their home country of Sweden, "food should be prepared with love and butter." We think you will wholeheartedly agree! Phone Betty at

(603) 323-2012 or find her online at www.scandinavianbakingnh.com

Another fascinating niche business to take hold in Tamworth is New Hampshire Mushroom Company, located at 153 Gardner Hill Rd, Tamworth, NH. A trio of friends, one a theatre arts major from Maine, one a bagpipe playing archaeologist, and one photographer and amateur astronomer, came together in 2012 to start the exciting and expanding warehouse of mycological wonders. Well known throughout the region and especially in fine dining establishments from Portsmouth and Portland, the New Hampshire Mushroom guys have dialed in their proprietary growing medium to produce some amazing and delectable fungi. From Oyster mushrooms to Chestnut mushrooms, Lion's Mane to Chanterelles, each exotic variety is organically grown in climate-controlled chambers. Tours are on Sundays at noon or can be arranged for groups by calling (603) 323-0097.

The Tamworth Distillery is a fount of locally sourced ingredient libations of the gin, vodka, whiskey and cordials variety. With lots of knowledge about the process, the sampling will surely spark your taste buds and have you concocting cocktails with cordials such as White Mountain Vodka, Apiary Gin, or Chocorua Rye Whiskey.

If you desire a unique space to host a catered event, contact The Highland House in Tamworth. An afternoon tea, birthday party, bridal shower, wedding or other special occasion, on-site or at your location, with a delightful assortment of culinary specialties prepared and served by Dale Bragdon. The renovated historic carriage house provides a delightful setting for a variety of events. For the past 25 years the building has hosted many weddings, and it is an ideal space for workshops, artist retreats, or a simple cup of tea or glass of wine.

One of my favorite hangout spots is the Sap House Meadery in Center Ossipee. Located just 10 minutes from the campground, at 6 Folsom Road, this wonderful entrepreneurial business produces tasty cordial wine from honey. Mead is possibly the oldest alcoholic drink in history, and the Sap House Meadery has perfected the ancient recipe in many alluring flavors. Stop in for a taste testing of all their seasonal favorites, sit down for a mead cocktail, and enjoy a locally sourced cheese plate. Their Maple Mead is a fantastic New England gift and their tapas soft tacos are artfully chef prepared. The Meadery is open Wednesday-Friday 3-8pm, Saturday 1-8pm, and Sunday 1-5pm. Whether you are looking for a quick local excursion or an afternoon of country driving, head out to our little local towns of Chocorua, Tamworth, and Ossipee, where you will surely experience something to talk about!

Trail Excursions in Sandwich

By Tamara Spencer

- The White Mountain National Forest is easily accessed in Sandwich, NH, for both beauty and recreation. The WMN encompasses nearly 800,000 acres in New Hampshire and western Maine. The mountain ranges, woodlands, rivers, waterfalls, flora, and fauna make it a natural attraction for outdoor enthusiasts of all ages.

- The trailheads and adventures start at Mead Base Conservation Center, located on Diamond Ledge Road. Travel from Rt 113 in Sandwich, by The Corner House Inn, turn right onto Main St (Rt 109) which turns into Grove Street, bear left onto Diamond Ledge Road. Park in the dirt lot to the right of the historic farmhouse.
- If you and your family want to explore, climb rocks, and enjoy a short jaunt to a waterfall pool, Beede Falls, head over to the trail to the left front of the farmhouse.

Follow signs behind farmhouse to Wentworth Trail which will grant you tranquil and scenic vistas of Squam and Winnepesaukee Lakes. ## Chocorua Bakery Gives Back with Swedish Fika

By Ryan Pacheco

The first and third Saturdays of the month are a busy time for Betty Schneider, owner of Scandinavian Baking in Chocorua. Twice a month, her downstairs parlor-turned bakery shop holds "Fika," a Swedish tradition in which time is spared to enjoy fresh coffee, tea and baked goods with friends, family, and the community. On this day, a slice of Scandinavian Almond Cake is complementary, along with coffee and tea. During Fika, there's always room for one more guest, as homes and families open up to enjoy peace and camaraderie with all enter. "Human interaction has been sacrificed at an alarming rate in recent years. Families sit down to eat together, only to individually isolate themselves into their phones. It's heartbreaking to watch, and Fika is a time to do more than be alone together," Betty told this reporter. "Growing up, my mother would always host Fika, as is a tradition in our family's native Sweden. It was open to anyone, and often the postman or handy-man working on our property would be seated at our table with us, eating and enjoying a moment to just sit and talk about life or something. In hindsight, I wonder if the postman would time his route, as to show up in time for Fika."

While baking was always a passion, Betty would have hardly guessed her authentic creations would ever become a business venture, let alone earn her media attention, such as coverage by a 2016 episode of New Hampshire Chronicle. She has also been awarded New Hampshire Magazine's "Best of 2017", and even received commemoration from the Governor of New Hampshire, for her efforts to bring the tradition of Fika to the state. Having relocated from New Orleans with her husband 13 years ago, Betty opened for business a mere year later, originally operating a baked goods cart before moving the operation into her home.

Since opening for business 12 years ago, Scandinavian Baking has received overwhelming praise from the community, as well as tourists. "People come in as strangers, but leave as friends. It's just a wonderful thing to behold, and Fika seems to be bringing people together. I've sold out of all but one cake, and witnessed customers who have never met, offer to buy in halves so that each person could walk away with something delicious." The sense of wholesomeness and welcoming only increases over the summer, when customers can sit outside on the porch, enjoying casual conversation and a warm summer's breeze.

Traditionally, the first and third Saturday of every month is when Fika is held from noon to one o'clock, however Betty Schneider offers Fika every Saturday. The shop is open Tuesday through Saturday from 7am-4pm. You'll be greeted with a warm smile, and some of Betty Schneider's signature friendliness. Coffee and tea are always complementary, and every detail is considered to give her customers an experience worth repeating. To Betty Schneider, baking is more than a career, much more an exercise in her unwavering commitment to sharing what she loves with the community. Betty has been a proud supporter of the Chocorua Camping Village for many years now.

The Hemenway State Forest

The Hemenway State Forest, just under 2,000 acres, consists of glacially carved foothills, scenic vistas, and thickets of pine forest. This preserve land lies northerly and centrally within Tamworth. Great Hill, Duck Pond and the 135-acre Big Pines Natural Area are located within the forest. The park's many trails provide access for walking, hiking, bird, and wildlife observation.

The outstanding view from Great Hill fire tower can be obtained either via a short jaunt (@ .75 miles round-trip) from the Four Corners parking area on Great Hill Road, (take Great Hill Road from Tamworth Village). The parking area is a few miles up once the road turns to dirt. The trail to the Fire Tower starts at the orange gate on the uphill (right) side of the parking area. On your way back to the campground stop at the Other Store for an Ice cream, or Art in the Age Cafe for a fresh cup of Joe and some lunch. Swing by the Tamworth Distillery and taste test hand-crafted gins, whiskeys, vodka and luscious cordials. The Tamworth Farmer's Market takes place on Saturdays at the town center's church parking lot, from 9am – 1pm. The Barnstormer's Summer Theatre, and Remick's Country Museum are also right in town of Tamworth, alongside the Swift River. See page 14 for Remick's Events and Happenings, and the ad on page 9 for Barnstormer's wonderful performance schedule.

For a longer woodsy, and picturesque trek, access the Spur Trail; a mellow 2+ mile round trip hike that brings you through a stand of ancient white pines and hemlocks with some impressively large trees, ending up at the Tamworth Fire Tower. At the top you will find a magnificent charted view of the Sandwich Mountain Range.

A large sign marks the parking spot for the Big Pines Natural Area on Rt. 113A, 2.9 miles from Tamworth village. At the entrance of the signed Big Pine Natural Area, you will immediately head into the deep softwood forest. At 0.1 mi. the trail descends to cross the Swift River on a sturdy footbridge. This bridge and the trails in this area are all the work of the Tamworth Conservation Commission. A routed sign shows the trail network. Take the R (W) fork of the Betty Steele Loop Trail, which wanders upward through those big pines, one reportedly over 14' in circumference! From the upper loop junction continue south on the signed Peg King Spur Trail. The last pitch of the trail up to the summit of Great Hill is fairly inclined.

The Great Hill tower was built in 1933 by the Chocorua Conservation Commission and was taken over by the town of Tamworth in 1977. The Tamworth Conservation Commission continues to maintain primarily for recreational purposes and have added a vista panorama to identify the mountain ranges at the top of the look-out. Be sure to bring your camera to capture some great scenic views, family fun, and perhaps some wildlife.
